

Environmental Management Policy

by Firma Tarapata Sp. z o.o.

Firma Tarapata Sp. z o.o. is committed to protecting both the local and global environment and recognizes the importance of environmental considerations in everyday decision-making and business operations. The organization also recognizes the risk of environmental deterioration that may result from its production activities, including:

1. Production of extrusions for household appliances, the automotive industry, construction and fire safety systems, as well as the production of tooling for machines producing the above products,
2. The use of electricity and heat, compressed air and water, waste management and keeping social and production rooms clean.

All employees associated with the organization always and under all circumstances act in an environmentally responsible manner – in order to ensure the overall improvement of environmental performance as well as to avoid environmental pollution.

In particular, Firma Tarapata Sp. z o.o.:

- operates within the Environmental Management System, based on the requirements of the ISO 14001:2015 standard
- improves processes and ensures working conditions that protect the environment and reduce identified environmental impacts on air, water and soil – wherever possible
- limits waste generation to a minimum through appropriate economic and technical measures
- undertakes to comply with all applicable environmental and industrial regulations (minimum level of environmental impact)
- provides training for all employees to ensure that their work is carried out in a manner that ensures maximum environmental protection. It also ensures that all employees are aware of the importance of the environmental policy and the importance of the Environmental Management
- undertakes and promotes all activities related to improving the environmental performance.

Firma Tarapata Sp. z o.o.'s organization ensures that its environmental objectives and targets related to its EMS focus on the company's main environmental impacts and that these objectives, in addition to the policy, are available to employees and the public at all times.

CEO

Mielec, March 6, 2019

Regina Wiech